AUSTIN | FEBRUARY 28 - MARCH 2

The NSF '22 Is Heading To Austin, Texas!

The National Sports Forum announces a return to its “live” gathering next February/March

SAN DIEGO, CA, October 13, 2022 – The National Sports Forum (NSF) announced today that the NSF '22 conference will be held in Austin, TX from February 28 – March 2. This will be the NSF's first live event in over two (2) years due to the pandemic.

The 26th edition of the NSF will be Officially Hosted by the City of Austin and will include networking opportunities, educational sessions, and off site, behind-the-scenes tours at The University of Texas at Austin as well as the brand new Q2 Stadium, which hosts the newest MLS team, Austin FC.

The Kalahari Resorts and Conventions will serve as host hotel for attendees of the 2022 Forum. This incredible resort will be the spot for all educational programming, including Monday Workshops, Super Panels, and Breakout Sessions.

NSF Founder and President, Ron Seaver, said: “The NSF is truly looking forward to welcoming everyone back together once again after WAY too long apart. And we can't think of a more vibrant and exciting sports community to explore than Austin, Texas. February can't get here soon enough!”

ABOUT THE NATIONAL SPORTS FORUM

The National Sports Forum is the largest annual cross gathering of the top team sports marketing, sales, promotions and event entertainment executives – from throughout the broad spectrum of teams and leagues, (i.e. NFL, MLB, NBA, NHL, Minor Leagues, Racing, Colleges, etc.), in North America. The Forum meets each year for three-days of networking, idea sharing and listening to the industry's top leaders, through numerous breakout sessions, panel discussions, networking events and keynote speeches. The National Sports Forum is overseen by a diverse Steering Committee of team, league, and industry leaders – peers that share a universal interest in meeting and learning from one another.
